To All Wine Lovers:

I recently had the pleasure of going on a Sonoma-Napa Valley wine trip organized by Denman Moody and I couldn't be more pleased with the outcome. When my family and I first decided to do the trip for my birthday I had no idea where to begin with planning it. I had never been to the area before, which is huge, and there are so many vineyards to choose from, not to mention the logistics and details that go along with it.

Once we had Denman on board to help us coordinate the trip I knew we were in good hands. He set up all of our appointments for us with no work on our end. He has such an extensive knowledge of the area- and the wine- and plenty of connections to go along with it after being involved in the industry for decades.

We ended up visiting a total of 8 vineyards over two days and each one had its own charm and character. All of them had beautiful scenery and fabulous wines. Some of the views we experienced were absolutely breathtaking and the places we visited ranged from peaceful to fun to wild. It was so interesting to see how some vineyards and winemakers can be so different from each other and that made experiencing them all so much fun.

Denman was also helpful in giving us advice for lodging, dining and transportation. He knew just how much time we would need in between our appointments and meals or if we would be able to combine any. Napa has some amazing restaurants that you definitely don't want to miss out on.

No matter your tastes or preferences Denman can create a trip just for you. There's really something for everyone and you can fine-tune your experience however you like. The Napa Valley and Sonoma area is truly unique and beautiful. It's a must see and the way your trip is organized can make all the difference.

So, if you're interested in visiting Napa Valley or Sonoma I would highly recommend using Denman Moody and his services. You'll have a fabulous personalized experience unlike any other.

Cheers,
